PLAINTIFF’S COMPLAINT

Plaintiff, MYESHA SCOTT (“Plaintiff”), through her attorney, Chauntel D. Bland, Esquire, alleges the following against Defendant, PMAB, LLC (“Defendant”):

INTRODUCTION

1. Count I of Plaintiff’s Complaint is based on the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, 15 U.S.C. 1692, et seq. (“FDCPA”).
2. Count II of Plaintiff’s Complaint is based on the Telephone Consumer Protection Act., 47 U.S.C. §227, et seq. (“TCPA”).
3. The TCPA was designed to prevent calls and text messages like the ones described herein, and to protect the privacy of citizens like Plaintiffs. “Voluminous consumer complaints about abuses of telephone technology – for example, computerized calls dispatched to private homes – prompted Congress to pass the TCPA.” Mims v. Arrow Fin. Servs., LLC, 132 S. Ct. 740, 744 (2012).
4. In enacting the TCPA, Congress intended to give consumers a choice as to how corporate similar entities may contact them, and made specific findings that “[t]echnologies that might allow consumers to avoid receiving such calls are not universally available, are costly, are unlikely to be enforced, or place an inordinate burden on the consumer. TCPA,

Pub. L. No. 102–243, § 11. In support of this, Congress found that

[b]anning such automated or prerecorded telephone calls to the home, except when the receiving party consents to receiving the call or when such calls are necessary in an emergency situation affecting the health and safety of the consumer, is the only effective means of protecting telephone consumers from this nuisance and privacy invasion.

Id. at § 12; see also Martin v. Leading Edge Recovery Solutions, LLC, 2012 WL 3292838, at* 4 (N.D.Ill. Aug. 10, 2012) (citing Congressional findings on TCPA’s purpose).

5. Congress also specifically found that “the evidence presented to the Congress indicates that automated or prerecorded calls are a nuisance and an invasion of privacy, regardless of the type of call....” Id. at §§ 12-13. See also, Mims, 132 S. Ct. at 744.
6. As Judge Easterbrook of the Seventh Circuit recently explained in a TCPA case regarding calls to a non-debtor similar to this one:

The Telephone Consumer Protection Act ... is well known for its provisions limiting junk-fax transmissions. A less-litigated part of the Act curtails the use of automated dialers and prerecorded messages to cell phones, whose subscribers often are billed by the minute as soon as the call is answered—and routing a call to voicemail counts as answering the call. An automated call to a landline phone can be an annoyance; an automated call to a cell phone adds expense to annoyance.

Soppet v. Enhanced Recovery Co., LLC, 679 F.3d 637, 638 (7th Cir. 2012).

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

7. This Court has federal question jurisdiction because this case arises out of violations of federal law. 47 U.S.C. §227(b); Mims v. Arrow Fin. Servs., LLC, 132 S. Ct. 740 (2012).

8. Venue and personal jurisdiction in this District are proper because Defendant does or transacts business within this District, and a material portion of the events at issue occurred in this District.

PARTIES

9. Plaintiff is a natural person residing in Greenwood, Greenwood County, South Carolina.
10. Plaintiff is a consumer as that term is defined by 15 U.S.C. 1692a(3).
11. Plaintiff allegedly owes a debt as that term is defined by 15 U.S.C. 1692a(5).
12. Defendant is a debt collector as that term is defined by 15 U.S.C. 1692a(6).
13. Defendant is, and at all times mentioned herein, a corporation and is a “person,” as defined by 47 U.S.C. § 153 (10).
14. Within the last year, Defendant attempted to collect a consumer debt from Plaintiff.
15. Defendant is a collection agency located in Charlotte, North Carolina.
16. Defendant is a business entity engaged in the collection of debt within the State of South Carolina.
17. Plaintiff alleges that at all times relevant herein Defendant conducted business in the State of South Carolina and in the County of Greenwood, and within this judicial district.
18. Defendant’s business includes, but is not limited to, collecting on unpaid, outstanding account balances.
19. When an unpaid, outstanding account is placed with Defendant it is assigned an account number.
20. The principal purpose of Defendant’s business is the collection of debts allegedly owed to third parties.
21. Defendant regularly collects, or attempts to collect, debts allegedly owed to third parties.

22. During the course of its attempts to collect debts allegedly owed to third parties, Defendant sends to alleged debtors bills, statements, and/or other correspondence, via the mail and/or electronic mail, and initiates contact with alleged debtors via various means of telecommunication, such as by telephone and facsimile.

23. Defendant acted through its agents, employees, officers, members, directors, heirs, successors, assigns, principals, trustees, sureties, subrogees, representatives, and insurers.

THE TELEPHONE CONSUMER PROTECTION ACT OF 1991, 47 U.S.C. § 227

24. As noted above, in 1991, Congress enacted the TCPA in response to a growing number of consumer complaints regarding certain telemarketing practices.

25. The TCPA regulates, among other things, the use of automated telephone equipment, or "autodialers." Specifically, the plain language of section 227(b)(1)(A)(iii) prohibits the use of autodialers to make any call to a wireless number in the absence of an emergency or the prior express consent of the called party.

26. According to findings by the Federal Communication Commission ("FCC"), the agency Congress vested with authority to issue regulations implementing the TCPA, such calls are prohibited because, as Congress found, automated or prerecorded telephone calls are a greater nuisance and invasion of privacy than live solicitation calls, and such calls can be costly and inconvenient. The FCC also recognized that wireless customers are charged for incoming calls whether they pay in advance or after the minutes are used.

27. On January 4, 2008, the FCC released a Declaratory Ruling wherein it confirmed that autodialed and prerecorded message calls to a wireless number by a creditor (or on behalf of a creditor) are permitted only if the calls are made with the "prior express consent" of the called party. The FCC "emphasize[d] that prior express consent is deemed to be granted only if the wireless number was provided by the consumer to the creditor, and that such number was provided during the transaction that resulted in the debt owed."

28. The TCPA prohibits the use of any "automatic telephone dialing systems" to call cellular telephones. It also prohibits the use of artificial or prerecorded messages.

- a. "Automatic telephone dialing system" means any equipment that has the "capacity to dial numbers without human intervention." Griffith v. Consumer Portfolio Serv., Inc., 2011 WL 3609012 (N.D. Ill. Aug. 16, 2011) (emphasis original).

32. Defendant calls Plaintiff from 704-319-7188, which is one of Defendant's telephone numbers.

33. Defendant calls Plaintiff at an annoying and harassing rate, calling Plaintiff three (3) to four (4) times per day.

34. When Plaintiff answers Defendant's telephone calls, Plaintiff is greeted by an automated message which advises Plaintiff to "press 4," if she is not Tina Walker.

35. On more than one occasion, Plaintiff has pressed the number 4, and the call was immediately disconnected.

47. Accordingly, Defendant never received Plaintiff's "prior express consent" to receive calls using an automatic telephone dialing system or an artificial or prerecorded voice on her cellular telephone pursuant to 47 U.S.C. 227(b)(1)(A).

48. Even if Defendant received Plaintiff's "prior express consent" to receive calls using an automatic telephone dialing system or an artificial or prerecorded voice, "prior express consent" was revoked when Plaintiff pressed the number indicated to inform Defendant that she was not Tina Walker.
